elle

Handwritten text at the top of the page, likely a title or introductory section. It features dense, cursive script with some larger, possibly decorative or emphasized words. The text is written in a dark ink and appears to be a historical or legal document.

Handwritten word or short phrase on the left side, possibly a name or a title.

Handwritten notes on the left side, written in a smaller, more compact cursive script. It appears to be a list or a series of short entries.

The main body of handwritten text, consisting of approximately 40 lines. The script is dense and consistent throughout. There are some larger, more prominent words that stand out from the rest of the text. The lines are closely spaced, and the overall appearance is that of a formal or official document.

Handwritten text at the bottom left corner. It includes the word 'Manda' in a larger, bold script, followed by several lines of smaller, cursive text. This appears to be a signature or a concluding statement.

Handwritten text at the bottom right corner, continuing the main body of text. It includes a large, circular mark or seal at the bottom center, which might be an official stamp or a signature mark. The text is dense and fills the space below the main body.
