Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is dense and spans most of the page. It appears to be a formal communication, possibly a petition or a report, given the use of words like 'domine' and 'vobis'. The script is highly stylized and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Handwritten signature or name, possibly 'Willelmus' or similar, written in a cursive hand.

Basprobenega
Omp rala ciudad
del reyno de castilla

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, continuing the cursive script. It includes several lines of text, some of which are crossed out or written over. The text is less legible due to the dense handwriting and some ink bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.
