

22. 11. 1558

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

Handwritten note on the left margin, possibly 'Hoc est'.

Second block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

Third block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

1. 7. 10.

Fourth block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

lo amra n' semer. In sel an regidus die hode dal ma

Handwritten note on the left margin, possibly 'Hoc est'.

Fifth block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

Handwritten note on the left margin, possibly 'Hoc est'.

Sixth block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

Handwritten note on the left margin, possibly 'Hoc est'.

Seventh block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

Handwritten note on the left margin, possibly 'Hoc est'.

Eighth block of handwritten text, starting with 'Ist die...' and continuing with several lines of text.

enells

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document, covering the upper right portion of the page. The text is dense and difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and some fading.

do no

Large, stylized signature or flourish, possibly reading "L. J. ...".